SENIOR CLASS INFORMATION

CLASS POEM

Farewell! O staunch and noble school,
From whence we now depart,
Our minds with knowledge gained are full;
Cherished memories fill our hearts.
Lest we forget with whom we've shared
Our hopes, our joys, our fears;
Our thanks to you, dear teachers
Who've been with us through the years.

The knots we've tied as class mates,
Shall endure through endless days,
As we pass through thy closing gates,
To tread on parting ways.
On with God our mighty Captain,
All our goals we shall attain;
High the torch of truth we'll carry
And we'll falter not nor wane.

Our soldier boys who fight and die,
We hold in high esteem;
They fight for us—our freedom win,
O'er them our colors gleam.
So with intermingled smiles and tears,
We in parting, heave a sigh—
Ever loyal, ever true to thee—
Our immortal Berwick High.

Vocational Home Economics Graduates

Looking for personalities, eh! Well, take a gander at these fair ladies and you'll agree they qualify.

Lend an ear folks for we will present some facts about the Home Economics Course as released by Miss Lucille Cretella, supervisor.

The aims of the course are to make the joy of living possible, to develop wholesome personalities and to participate successfully in family and community life, to show the relation between homemaking and leisure time activities, to develop wage-earning possibilities closely allied to homemaking, and to teach the girls the technique of art for homes.

The subjects include nutrition, clothing construction, personality, hobbies, consumer buying, budgeting, child care, personal hygiene, etc.

Each student works out a home project. The purpose of this is to help students solve their own problems. Visits to the home are made by the teacher to confer with the parents and the students.

The advantage of the Vocational Home Economics course are numerous. It prepares girls for real life situations and furnishes credits for those taking work in nursing and dietetics.

A "Home Ec" Bazaar

Above is a typical example of several bazaars that were held during the year by ambitious "Home Ec" students under the direction of Miss Lucille Cretella.

Pop corn, peanut brittle, cookies, fudge, doughnuts, and other delicious foods were sold to the student body. Crowds were always turned away after all the goodies were sold.

GIRLS' GYM ACTIVITIES

Miss Collins came to Berwick as girls' gym instructress in January 1944. She has lived up to her belief that the girls' health program is as important as that of the boys.

She has constantly stressed good health habits including nutrition, posture, and grace. Under her enthusiastic and capable leadership the girls' gym activities have become a major part of the school program.

CHEERLEADING SQUAD

First Row: Louise Arndt, Phyllis Trioni.

Second Row: Shirley Kehl, Lorraine Algatt, Ruth Ann Hess, Marie Dorak.

Third Row: Ellen Kundrat, Nellie Daniels, Helen Hemlock, Ellen Reagan, Betty Melchiore.

Fourth Row: Sophie Baron, June Harvey, Miss Betty J. Collins, Adviser, Caryl Hoffman, Patricia Wolf.

The varsity cheerleading squad of twelve girls added color and enthusiasm to the B. H. S. football and basketball season this year.

The three varsity members that will leave this year are Shirley Kehl, Marie Dorak, and Betty Melchiorre. The vacancies will be filled by members of the reserve cheerleading group.

During the football season the girls' outfits consisted of blue slacks and white sweaters. Although not too feminine in appearance, the girls didn't suffer from the cold. Comfort first! The uniform worn during the basketball season was a blue and white check skirt with shoulder straps worn over a long sleeve white blouse.

New cheers were taught the student body. The cheerleaders wanted to eliminate the complaints against those originated centuries ago. There was much improvement in the cheering sections this year.

Indian Club Drill: Kneeling—Midge Fuller, Naomi Parker, Mary Cocklin.
Standing—Lucy Kleckner, Yvonne Seriff, Virginia Jordan.

Drills

Wand drills are especially fine for building both the large and small muscles of the body. Wooden wands are used for class work. These measure about one yard in length and three-fourths of an inch in diameter. The exhibition wands have the same measurements but are hollow metal rods. The picture shows the Girls' Gym Team forming a wand design.

Indian Clubs are also equipment for drill work. Any number of people may participate in a club drill, the larger the group, the richer the appearance. The clubs are fine for developing muscles of the shoulder girdle and wrist flexibility. Rhythm and neuro-muscular skill are required to manipulate them.

Clubs used in class weigh one and one-half pounds and are made of hard wood. These can be decorated for novel drills.

The picture above shows three of the girls kneeling and holding the clubs in a carrying position. Girls standing on the sides have the clubs in a parallel position and the girl in the center has the clubs at a full arm outward circle position.

Basketball

B. H. S. girls discovered this year that basketball wasn't just "a dry old game." Miss Collins insisted that the girls in every class learn the rules, scoring, timing, and duties of the officials. The results were that the girls felt the game was fun because they knew all about it. Competition was carried on between several teams within each of the seven gym classes.

Tumbling

The Girls' Gym team was organized in February 1944 by Miss Collins. Its activities include tumbling, stunts, calisthenics, drills, folk dances and marching.

The above pictures depict some of the excellent neuro-muscular skill that tumbling develops. All are demonstrations of balances. The left picture shows a body supported in mid-air and requires unique muscle control by both participants. The middle one shows two girls doing a hand stand on their knees. The bottom individuals are supports and the center person is the holding support. The picture to the right is a three point balance and was portrayed in a recent issue of Life Magazine. B. H. S. girls developed the skill in a short time.

History tells us that manipulating the body in feats of skill such as springing, revolving, balancing, supporting, and other unusual positions was in a highly developed stage in ancient times and has carried through to the present. Early paintings and sculpture depict tumbling as a part of religious ceremonies in ancient Egypt. Surprising as it may seem, women were the professionals at this art and were credited with giving more expression to dancing and tumbling because of gracefulness and charm.

Contrary to many opinions this type of exercise is beneficial to both male and female and is not too strenuous for girls. It is a matter of making the body listen to the commands of the mind rather than strength. Strength is developed through the exercises, of course, but it isn't just plain strength that determines one's ability to do them.

Spring Activities

Spring activities for girls include track, dancing, out-door games, and softball.

SOFTBALL

Softball is the chief interest as soon as "Mr. Sun" pours down some rays of spring warmth. "Please, Miss Collins, let us go outside today to play softball," is the request made as early as March 1st. However, Miss Collins clings to her steadfast rule—no outdoor activity before April.

Intra-mural softball is conducted for girls. Each class has two teams and then by elimination tournaments the champion team is decided.

Baseball is considered a man's game, but softball is a fine sport for girls and they play it well, too. Not only do they play it well, but they also add grace, beauty, and charm to this popular American game. During the past few years girls' professional teams have been organized and have toured the country often giving men's softball teams woeful defeats. Some B. H. S. girls compare favorably with the average personnel of girls' professional teams.

TRACK

Track includes running broad jumps, standing broad jumps, 50 yard dashes, and the shot put. These activities are put on an intra-mural basis and the winners selected.

OUT-DOOR GAMES

Out-door games permit any number of girls to participate at a time. It is an easy way to take care of a large class when all desire activity. Most of these are tagging or catching games such as Hip Tag, Prison Base, or Three Deep.

DANCING

Dancing is a year 'round activity. How surprised and delighted the girls are when they can have round dancing in gym class. The girls bring their records to school and these are played over the sound system. Ah, but that swing music can be heard only in the gym. Too bad!

VOLLEY BALL

This is an indoor sport carried on throughout the year. As yet the girls haven't had the spirit necessary for intra-class volley ball games. Let's have some competition, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors!

CLASSIFIED ACTIVITY

Some girls, because of minor physical defects, cannot take the regular program of physical education. Everything possible is being done to provide these few individuals with non-strenuous activity and recreation that they can do and enjoy.

It is hoped that shuffleboard and quoits will soon be available for physical education classes. These two games are forms of modified activity and can be used indoors or out.

Kiwanis Award

Each month the Kiwanis Club of Berwick invites an outstanding senior boy to attend meetings during that month, as a recognition of his citizenship, scholastic, and leadership ability. These students are chosen by the B. H. S. Faculty. The school is extremely proud of the achievements of these seniors and of the honor they receive by being selected Kiwanians. They receive regular club pin which is passed on to each new selectee.

The plan of Kiwanis in selecting a student each month was inaugurated at the beginning of the fall term as a means of better introducing the student to the aims and ideals of Kiwanis while at the same time recognizing worthwhile student achievement.

The following boys have been selected as Kiwanians. This list is complete as of March 1, 1945.

Miss Hetler's Art Classes Construct an Interesting Project in Interior Decoration

One of the projects carried on in Miss Hetler's Art Classes during this term was the making of models of the room as it is today and as it could be. This project was worked out by Ted Torsella, David Stimeling, and Donald Follmer, and is the product of many hours of work.

The one model is of the room worked out to scale with the furnishings and color scheme as of the present. The lights are too high, there is too little cupboard space, the tables are scratched and scarred from years of hard usage, and the whole room is as common and ordinary as any other classroom.

The next model is of the art room, again worked out to scale, but with a neutral color scheme and modern furnishings. The furniture, walls, and ceiling are in soft tones of gray, with blackboards the same color as the walls. Cupboard space has been added with shelves of different heights for various types of materials. All cupboards are equipped with sliding glass doors that give a cheery aspect to the room and enable anyone to easily find what he wants. The furniture is of plastic with individual drawing desks, the tops of which can be raised or lowered to the desired height. Every desk holds drawing boards and has a drawer for each class. The windows are of glass brick which admit light at all times and eliminate glare. A drying rack has been built under the sink, new lighting has been installed, and there has been a movable, modeling platform upon which models will stand when posing for pictures.

The purpose of this project was to teach students how to plan the interior of a schoolroom for pleasing color and good arrangement, and how to keep everything in its designated place.

Mr. Habian's Related Drafting Classes at Work

Related Drafting is one of the subjects begun this year as a part of the new Vocational-Industrial Program. Three periods of this work are required each week for students in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades who are enrolled in the course. Classes are also open to students in the night school.

The objective of related drafting classes is to develop some degree of skill in making and interpreting working drawings. Knowledge of working drawings is necessary for employment in various modern industries. In drafting the student also comes in contact with expressions which tend to make him industrial minded.

Bausch and Lomb Award

In accordance with custom, Bausch and Lomb Optical Company has presented a Science Award to the outstanding science student of the graduating class. Gordon Stout is the recipient this year, while Ruth Amble was given honorable mention.

Stout has earned straight "A" grades in all his science subjects throughout high school.

This year, as an extension of its Science Award, Bausch and Lomb has announced its plan for sponsoring five scholarships at the University of Rochester. These scholarships, having a cash value of $1500, are available on a competitive basis to the winners of the award.

Vocational Agriculture Students

The Berwick High School authorities have recognized the importance of agriculture and the training of their rural students in this field by introducing a course in Vocational Agriculture.

Because farming is a complex combination of many agricultural skills and abilities, the students are instructed in the various jobs of farming as they are carried out in practice. Frequent visits to the most successful farms where these jobs are being done properly enable the student to see the proper methods of management.

Outstanding in the Agricultural course is the home project. It offers the student an excellent opportunity to put into practice those improved methods of production and marketing which make successful farmers. The project is a productive enterprise undertaken on the home farm under the supervision of the instructor and with the consent and cooperation of the parents. The student is confronted with the actual practice of record keeping. An official project record book includes all the essential records such as labor, expenses, receipts, inventories, and a financial summary. It also includes space for a carefully prepared plan of the project, a diary of important activities and event, a story to be written at the end of the project, and an analysis of factors determining the efficiency of the boy's management.

A four year course in agriculture adapted to the needs of the farm boys in the Berwick area will include the study of poultry, vegetable gardening, farm crops, dairying, animal husbandry, fruit growing, farm forestry, farm management, and farm mechanics. Farm mechanics will include practice in woodwork, forge work, electrict welding, lathe operation, drill press operation, and machinery repair.

Mr. Zimmerman Directs Work on Mural

Symbols of liberty and freedom are well illustrated in the mural recently painted by David Stimeling on the wall of Mr. Russell Zimmerman's classroom. The mural is the culminating unit in the series of war scenes painted on the walls.

On the left is the historic scene of Betsy Ross making the first American flag. To the right is a view of the Washington Monument. In the center stands the main theme of the mural, Liberty. Soaring past this statue, which seems almost lifelike, are bombers of the present war.

The entire mural is beautifully done in tempra and is a credit to the artist. David Stimeling. Stimeling is a member of the Senior Class and considers it an honor to have painted the mural.

The first in the series of murals was done by Ralph Wagner. Later the room was redecorated and a second series started. Those who contributed to the second series were: Vincent DiAugustine, Phyllis Gift, Gordon Heavner, Frank Torsella, and Joseph Mazzitti.

Mr. Zimmerman's objectives in beginning the project were to brighten the dull, drab walls of the room and to give the students a method of self expression.

Review of 1941-1945

FRESHMAN YEAR — 1941-'42

To the opening strains of "School Days", two-hundred and twenty-three freshmen of the Class of '45 sauntered shyly past the Ionic columns of Berwick High, looked around and decided to stay.

Right behind them strolled four other newcomers who also decided to stay—for a different reason. This quartet included Misses Violet Grigg, Muriel Engleke, Dorothy Savage, and Ruth Merrion, who had been engaged to fill vacancies in the faculty. Miss Engleke was the first gym instructress ever to teach at B.H.S.

Miss Jennie Birth and Mr. Roger Davis were also among the new faces in the teachers receiving line for the Class of '45. Miss Birth had recently returned from a sabbatical leave spent along the Western Coast and Alaska. Mr. Davis had visited places of interest in Alaska, the West, and Florida.

For one long week the "Superior Sophs" inflicted humiliation upon the "pea green frosh."

Orders of the week were:

1. Monday—Both boys and girls were to wear dark glasses and paper hats.

2. Wednesday—Boys were to wear lipstick and part their hair in the middle. The girls were to be enveloped in men's trousers.

3. Thursday—Boys were to turn shirts backwards and girls had to wear boys' ties.

In retribution, the sympathetic Juniors eased the humiliation of Freshman week by sponsoring a welcome party for the '45ers. At this event Arthur Arndt and Yvonne Seriff were elected to reign as Mr. and Mrs. 1945.

Officers elected to head the Freshman Class were:

Arthur Arndt, Jr.	President
Richard Kile	Vice President
Midge Fuller	Secretary
Sophie Kirylich	Treasurer

Mr. Roger Davis and Miss Geneva Knelly were appointed class advisers.

Alma Mater went modern on a large scale in that year of nineteen hundred and forty-one, for both a two way loud speaker system and an electric basketball scoring board were installed.

In this record year for athletics, the B.H.S. football team walked off proudly with the Wyoming Valley Conference crown. The team also copped honors for being the top scoring high school team in Pennsylvania.

In basketball the epic was continued. The Bulldogs again came out first in the Wyoming Valley League and went on to claim regional honors only to be defeated by Lower Merrion.

Coach C. C. Bream, Jr., was commissioned a Lieutenant (j.g.) in the U. S. Navy and left for the service without seeing his championship basketball team finish their season.

Disaster lashed out at B.H.S. when the stage was destroyed by fire one week before the senior drama was to be given. Confusion ruled the dramatists until the Nescopeck High School stage was secured for the presentation, "What A Life."

Previously, two minor blazes caused slight damage to Room 104 and the boys' lavatory. They were believed to have been started by lighted cigarettes.

One of the highlights of this year was the election of Prof. R. A. G. Stetler who succeeded Prof. M. E. Houck as superintendent of the school system.

Precautions taken this year against air raid attacks were the air raid drills practiced in B.H.S.

The Junior Class, as usual, entertained the aging seniors in the annual Junior-Senior Prom at West Side Park on May 13th.

Don Haines won literary honors for his story, "The Last Mile," which won the Freshman story contest.

Weddings seemed to enjoy a spell of popularity with the faculty with the following succumbing to Master Cupid's arrows: Miss Ruth Fairchilds to Mr. Frank Hagenbuch; Mr. Harold Border to Miss Betty Dent; and Mr. Harold Lanterman to Miss Dorothy Schekler. Mr. Ray McBride's engagement to Miss Edna Keller was announced also.

At the end of the "Frosh year, Martha Houck was awarded the Freshman scholarship award. Mary Cocklin and Don Cope were honorably mentioned.

Leading our Sophomore Class were:
Yvonne Sult ..... President
Bernard DiPaul ..... Vice President
Doris Naus ..... Secretary
Richard Peterson ..... Treasurer

Mr. R. A. G. Stetler was welcomed as the new superintendent along with seven new teachers: Miss Remensnyder, Miss Geneva Knelly, Miss Blanche Garrison, Mr. Murray Watte, Mr. Nelson Hoffman, Mr. Thomas Hartman, and Mr. Charles Heller.

Due to illness Mr. Heller was forced to resign. The position was first filled by Mrs. A. D. Knoebel and later by Mrs. Rebecca Frantz.

For the first time in many years, B.H.S. had an assistant principal, Mr. A. C. Morgan. He was to assist in checking absentees, tardiness, and class skipping.

Miss Erla Long, now Mrs. Creasy, was Miss Winifred Marshall was appointed to given the job as truant officer.
the position as secretary to Principal Shuman when Miss Geraldine Canouse resigned.

Before Miss Canouse left, she announced her engagement to Cpl. Carl Runyan. Miss Dorothy Savage also announced her engagement to Mr. Drue Folk.

Those who stood before the minister and solemnly took their oaths during the year were: Mr. Ray McBride to Miss Edna Keller, Miss Geneva Knelly to Mr. George Massic, and Coach C. C. Bream to Miss Nancy Murchison.

Several new courses were added to the curriculum: Spanish, aeronautics, interior decorating, machine shop and welding, pre-induction chemistry and drafting taught at night school, and military training taught by Mr. Harrison Cameron.

Home Nursing was taught to the girls at the Y.M.C.A. under the supervision of Mrs. Crisman.

The Navy was increased this year as Miss Hilda Tinney joined the WAVES while Mr. Clarance Ruch and Mr. Joseph Coviello enlisted in the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Edna McBride replaced Miss Tinney: Miss Susanne Lehman and Mr. William Seldon took over for Mr. Ruch and Mr. Coviello.

Former faculty members, Miss Mary McDonald and Mrs. Ruth Hagenbuch, enlisted in the WAVES.

The new stage was completed and many programs were given on it. Among these assemblies was the hypnotist who put many students to sleep causing them to have a headache when they awoke.

The football team won nine out of ten games; in basketball, the boys received the Wyoming League, District 2 Title, but were defeated by Hazleton at Allentown for regional honors.

This year the sophomores had the pleasure of inflicting misery and humiliation upon the "pea-green" freshman who took it on the chin. They really were embarrased with these ideas of jokes and fun. But they felt the same as other classes did when they had their chance.

Miscellaneous items of note are as follows:

Mr. Habian's class built a new stand at the football field.

Booster pins and pencils were sold to help financial conditions of the class.

Bowling teams were started at the Elks and Y.M.C.A. They semed to only last a little while.

Milk was served to students who wanted it. This had been done years before but had been stopped.

The Girl Reserves dissolved and the Senior Service Scouts were organized in its place.

A play, "Tish," was produced by the Dramatic Club on the new stage.

A Japanese two-man sub visited town as a War Bond Rally.

Due to the shortage of metals, the class rings were ordered and were received in the Junior Year.

The Drill Team under Miss Engleke's direction, started its second year of service at the football games.

Ending the year was the awarding assembly. The following received awards for meritorious work: Martha Houck, highest Sophomore average, honorable mention, Mary Cocklin and Donald Cope.

JUNIOR YEAR — 1943-1944

The Class of '45 began its Junior Year in B. H. S. under the leadership of:

Richard Peterson	President
Yvonne Sult	Vice President
Madge Fuller	Secretary
Richard Kile	Treasurer

The two-hundred odd members of the new Junior Class acted as witnesses for one of the most complete changes in school history —the inauguration of the Junior-Senior High School system in the Berwick Schools. Under the new set-up Orange Street and Fourteenth Street building accommodate the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades, while the senior high is composed of sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Miss Beatrice Plastow, Mrs. Ginter, Mr. Lee Banghart, and Mr. Carl Davis were welcomed as additions to the faculty of Senior High school. Miss Plastow replaced Miss Lois Remensnyder in the Home Economics department and Mrs. Ginter was initiated as the vocational and general home economics teacher. During the latter part of the year Miss Plastow was wed to Bernard Byran.

Due to the resignation of Mr. M. L. Keyser, history teacher, Mr. Lee Banghart was advanced from the grades to fill that capacity.

Mr. Carl Davis was elected superviser of the vocational agriculture course which was added this year to the curriculum of the high school.

Another nuptial event of the year was that of Miss Dorothy Savage and Mr. Drew Folk.

Berwick schools were represented at the Bloomsburg Fair by a booth exhibit which claimed third prize of $25.00. This was the first time in several years that Berwick had participated in the booth exhibit competition.

With the encouragement of the cheering squad the Bulldog eleven proceeded to win nine out of ten gridiron tussels, thus copping the Wyoming Valley Championship.

The seniors, as usual, supplied the demands of the hungry crowds at the football stands.

The Dramatic Club under the direction of Miss Mildred Moody was reorganized with Millard Fisher as President.

Miss Betty Collins, recently graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was engaged as the successor to Miss Engleke when the latter left to teach at Westfield, New Jersey. Miss Collins put into effect a complete turnover of gym classes at Berwick High.

Then came that fateful day of January 26th, when school pupils took the law into their own hands and staged their long remembered walk-out. The reason for this strike was to impress upon the mind of their elders the determined desire of the students for shorter hours.

As a result of this misunderstanding the students were encouraged to organize a Student Council and through this medium voice their criticisms of school procedures. The Council was formed and Phyllis Trioni elected to fill the chairman's seat. Miss Edna Harter and Mr. Ernest Hower were elected by Council members as faculty advisers to oversee the proceedings.

The sixteenth annual band concert was received enthusiastically by grade and high school students. Featured guest conductor at the event was Lt. (i.g.) James Thurmond of the U. S. Navy School of Music stationed at Washingtoin, D. C. Popular, semi-classical, and classical operatic numbers keynoted the program.

Quite a few students entered the armed forces during the year. Among those enlisting was a member of the faculty, Mr. Elmer McKechnie, who was commissioned an Ensign in the U. S. Navy. His teaching position was filled by his wife.

Mr. Ernest Hower also resigned in order to take a teaching position at Lancaster, Pa. Miss Kathe Hansen was engaged to teach German in his stead.

Warren Hause was awarded first prize in the annual poppy poster contest held for art and mechanical drawing students.

Another school year came to a close and members of the class of '45 retired to their homes to await the arrival of their final year at B. H. S.

Review of 1941-1945

SENIOR YEAR — 1944-1945

At last the senior year rolled around, the year all students dream of. To them other senior classes had seemed so old and settled. But the Class of '45 entered their enior year feeling the same as they did when Freshmen. They took a look at the Sophomores and decided they looked like midgets or pygmies who belonged in kindergarten.

Presiding over the class were the following honorables:

Bernard DiPaul	President
Doris Naus	Vice President
Helen Rusinko	Secretary
Nick DiPasquale	Treasurer

Entering the faculty for the new year were Miss Kathe Hansen, Mrs. Elmer McKechnie, Miss Lucille Cretella, and Mr. Lewis Long.

Four new instructors were added to teach vocational-industrial courses: Mr. Lloyd Heacock, Mr. Drew Gingher, Mr. Harrison Cameron, and Mr. Herbert Detjen. Mr. Detjen is the director of vocational-industrial education in Berwick working on the V. E. N. or War Emergency program. His duty is to study the industries of Berwick so that the industrial subjects may be adjusted to fit them.

Mr. Ray McBride resigned and Mr. Lee Banghart obtained a leave of absence. They were replaced by Misses Annie Schweppenheiser and Adrian Masanotti.

The student council reorganized after one year of good and faithful service with Donald Cope as president. Miss Harter and Mr. Zimmerman were elected advisers to show the members the right paths to travel. The council accomplished many needed reforms around the building during the year, such as ordering a phone booth and replacing soiled flags with new ones.

Again the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Clubs opened with Ruth Amble and Clarence Herr as chairmen. Many of the Hi-Y boys attended a conference at Wilkes-Barre in December.

Ranking third in the Wyoming Valley Conference the football team really did their stuff. They lost only one game which was to Hanover. Though the boys didn't win all the games in basketball, what they did do was play interesting and hard fought games all through the season.

The girls again came into prominence in the line of sports. Basketball games were played between gym classes. New games were introduced to the classes that may have seemed childish but they were fun. The newly formed gym team was coached by Miss Collins in dancing and tumbling and put on an exhibition in the spring.

The senior stand was again opened for the football season with Mrs. Bryan and Mr. Roger Davis as advisers.

The band was "spiffed up" with bright new uniforms purchased by the Band Mothers Association.

Our famous poster boy, Walter Bird, captured state honors with his poppy poster.

Parents came back to the scene of their crimes to see how their children were behaving at a night school program held during National Education Week in November.

Gordon Stout received the Bausch and Lomb award for being the outstanding science student of the class. Ruth Amble received honorable mention.

Each month the Kiwanis Club of Berwick invited an outstanding Senior boy to attend meetings as a recognition of his citizenship, scholastic, and leadership ability.

In celebration of the finished half year, a mid-year formal was held with the Collegians, comedians, and crooners entertaining a capacity crowd.

For the first time in fourteen years final exams were given. This was the sad moment of finishing the year.

The Dramatic Club was really on the job this year. Among the programs were: A christmas program by the Seniors, a patriotic play, "The Home Front"., and a variety show that was presented in March.

The year ended with the seniors leaving their Alma Mater with heavy hearts wondering how they would manage to live without her.
